

GRAND STRATEGY IS GRAND GAME FUN—WITH 'TWIXT'

Here's a new game that will set two to plotting—grand strategy, that is! 'Twixt' not only amuses, it captures you! Try to build a connecting chain across the board with pegs and links—make a barrier against your opponent's attempt to do the same. So many ways to get across—and block you. Has the same fascination as chess, but a pre-teen child can play it at his own strategy level. Yet it can be deep and challenging for adults also. 2 or 4 can participate. 'Twixt' comes in a handsome leather-like case that stands up and

'OH-WAH-REE'—WORLD'S NEWEST OLDEST GAME!

How old? About 3500 years or more—a great favorite since the time of the Pharaohs! (Cleo may have played 'Oh-Wah-Ree' with Mark as they floated down the Nile!) Although we've updated it for today's tastes . . . the action is still the same. So how do you play 'Oh-Wah-Ree'? Simply speaking, you and your opponents "sow" colored pebbles in twelve hollow circles with a view to capturing both pebbles and pits. The game tests your ability to think ahead and outwit your opponents. The depth of strategy is limited only by
